What makes a great home?

In today's fast paced life our home is our sanctuary and it needs to provide comfort, enjoyment and safety. To achieve a great home everybody's needs should be met to create an environment that we all can enjoy.

What five essentials should every home have?

1. C-bus, allowing you to control systems within the home.
2. Plenty of storage.
3. Landscaping and outdoor entertainment areas.
4. Home theatre.
5. A security system.

Life and living are made much more enjoyable with the addition of these five things.

What building trends do you think we'll see in the new decade?

I think that future trends in home construction will continue to focus on creating an easier, more relaxing environment, but will also focus on reducing our carbon footprint with innovative inventions hitting the market constantly.

Your tip for a successful build?

'Build to the block' to minimise heating/cooling costs, reduce neighbour impact and also to maximise your view.
